

THE OHIO ALUMNUS
1919 - 1923

Digitized by the Internet Archive in 2010 with funding from Lyrasis Members and Sloan Foundation

P. 14

Ohio University Bulletin

ALUMNI NUMBER

Vol. XVIII—New Series

Number 28

Extra Number

ATHENS, OHIO, NOVEMBER, 1922

TO DR. MARTZOLFF

Tears, tears! What silence waits
Along the everlasting wall!
Dream-like and far, scarce heard at all,
A clang of doors reverberates.
O thou that sitt'st in heaven's gates,
Entranced, while tides of music fall,
Not quite surprised, dost thou recall
How often earth anticipates?
How in the days of joy, there lay
On these sad hills celestial light,
And faith at dawnrise walked with sight?
No more for thee the shadowed way
Who seest clear the things that are.
We mourn another setting star.

Chas. G. Matthews, '93.

A decorative border of small, repeating floral motifs surrounds the text.

HAIL THEE, OHIO!

---

Oh hear our hymn of praise to thee, Hail,
Alma Mater!
Thy loyal sons and daughters we, Hail,
Alma Mater,
Oh hail thee, Ohio, thou study pioneer!
Thy colors shall cheer us thro' the changing year.

As to the Greeks old Athens stood, Hail,
Alma Mater!
So we do love thy streams and wood, Hail,
Alma Mater,
Oh hail thee, all girt about with hills!
My heart at thy memory with rapture thrills.

Full soon will dawn that summer day, Hail,
Alma Mater!
When from thy doors we turn away, Hail,
Alma Mater,
Oh, hail thee, Ohio, however far from thee,
For faithful to old O. U. this heart will be!

CHORUS

Oh hear us now, Ohio, Oh take our solemn vow,
We'll love thee, Ohio, our fairest mother,
thou!

Ohio University Bulletin

PUBLISHED UNDER THE SUPERVISION OF THE OHIO UNIVERSITY
ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

CLARK E. WILLIAMS, '21, Editor

Table of Contents

	Page
Ohio's Great Loss .....	4
From the Editor's Desk .....	6
In the Fullness of Time. Down With the Reds!
What Is a School Worth? Shall We Limit the Girls? Thanks.
History Club Presents Picture .....	8
"The Filling Station" .....	9
Grand Old Man Celebrates Golden Wedding ..	10
The School of Music—C. C. Robinson .....	11
Former Commencement Speaker Passes .....	13
The Board of Trustees .....	14
On the Campus .....	16
De Alumnis .....	18
Marriages .....	21
The Cradle Roll .....	21
Deaths .....	22
Athletics .....	22

OHIO'S GREAT LOSS

Well Known Member of Ohio University Faculty Answers Call. Dr. C. L. Martzoff is Dead After Long Illness. Had Long Record as Teacher and Honored Citizen.

DR. C. L. MARTZOLFF

After fifteen years of faithful service to Ohio University—a service so devoted to the interests of his Alma Mater that it probably hastened his death, Clement Luther Martzoff, aged 53, head of the department of History of the Liberal Arts College and Secretary of the Ohio University Alumni Association, died at his home, Saturday evening, August 5th, after an illness which he had fought for the past five years and which became serious last March.

At that time he collapsed in his classroom at the University and his condition was declared serious by the attending physician. It improved, however, and with the improvement was an increased desire to assist in the campaign for the Alumni Memorial Auditorium. Prof. Martzloff made frequent trips to his office and on one occasion journeyed to Cincinnati where he appeared before the Ohio University Alumni Association of that city in behalf of the Memorial Campaign. This trip was followed by a gradual relapse in his physical condition and in June he was forced to go to his bed which he never left until his death. For a week prior to his death Professor Martzloff declined rapidly and the end was constantly expected.

Professor Martzloff was a life-long member of the Lutheran Church. The funeral service was held Tuesday afternoon, August 8, at one o'clock in the First Methodist Episcopal Church in Athens, where for years he and Mrs. Martzloff taught in the Sunday School. After these services the body was taken to Logan where another service was held at four o'clock in the Presbyterian Church on account of the smallness of the Lutheran Church in that city. The body was then placed in one of the Martzloff family crypts in the Logan Mausoleum in Oak Grave cemetery.

The funeral service at Athens was to have been in charge of Dr. Henry W. Elson, of Plainfield, N. J., former head of the history department of Ohio University, whom Dr. Martzloff succeeded, and Charles W. Cookson, of Columbus, University trustee and superintendent of the Franklin County Schools. Inability to make train connections, however, prevented Dr. Elson from coming in time for the funeral.

Born in Perry County

Clement Luther Martzloff was born in Monday Creek township in Perry County, Ohio, on November 25, 1869. He was of German descent; his grandparents came from Alsace in 1834 and were among the pioneers of Perry County. His boyhood was spent in that county where he attended the district school until the age of nineteen. He married Candus Mace, of Buchtel, O., July 5, 1894.

Professor Martzloff, throughout his entire life, was an active student and a thorough teacher. He attended Capital University at Columbus, O., for one year in 1892 and the summer school sessions at Ohio University in 1896, 1903, 1905, and 1906. He entered the regular term at the latter school in 1904, graduating in 1907 with the degree of Bachelor of Pedagogy. He received the M. Ped. degree from Ohio University in 1910 and that of D. Lit. from Wittenberg in 1920. He was a student at Harvard in 1904. He held many positions in public school work being both principal and superintendent of several different school systems. Since his graduation he has been professor of history at Ohio University, and was the head of his department at the time of his death.

Was Prolific Writer

He showed himself to be a prolific writer and some of his works have been used as textbooks in many schools. His "History of Perry County" is said to have had a larger sale than any county history ever published. Some of his other works are: "History of Athens County," "Autobiography of Thomas Ewing," "The First Service Star: A Christmas Story," "Fifty Stories from Ohio History," "Caleb Atwater," "Zane's Trace," and "The Story of Ohio."

Up to the time of his last illness Dr. Martzloff had been working on a book giving biographical sketches of alumni of Ohio University. This book was not finished and is still in manuscript form. He was a life member of the Ohio Archeological and Historical Society, and a member of the National Geographic and American Historical Societies.

Political Activities

Professor Martzloff was also active in political circles and a strong Democrat. From 1901 to 1902 he was chairman of the Democratic executive committee of Perry County. He was a delegate to the state conventions of 1895, 1897, and 1910. During 1908 he was active in the temperance movement and was a Wilson presidential elector in 1912. He was defeated when he was a candidate for election to the House of Representatives recently.

Throughout his entire life Professor Martzloff has proved himself to be a good citizen and active in the interest of Ohio University. As a teacher he made many friends and was untiring in his efforts to impart some of his knowledge to his friends.

From 1908 to 1922 Professor Martzloff was the Alumni Secretary of the University, succeeding Charles H. Bryson. In this capacity he worked toward gathering facts concerning careers of Ohio alumni after their graduation and was one of the leaders in the Memorial Auditorium Drive, now in progress. In the drive for funds for the Alumni Gateway a few years ago he was very active, and was one of the originators of the idea.

—O. U.—

J. Wm. Buchanan of the class of 1913, who has been for some years a graduate student at the University of Chicago, recently published a scientific article on "The Control of Head Formation in Planaria by Means of Anesthetics." The article was printed in "The Journal of Experimental Zoology." Mr. Buchanan is connected with the Hull Zoological Laboratory of the University of Chicago.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

In the Fullness of Time

"And it shall come to pass that in the fullness of time"—these words were full of deep significance and meaning for one whose loss we have so recently mourned. A teacher of history and a deeply religious man, Dr. Clement Luther Martzolf acknowledged the guiding and controlling power of One who shapes all ends and destinies, be they of man or man's creations.

The scriptural phrase quoted above was a favorite one with Dr. Martzolf who truly believed and taught that the fates and destinies of nations were no more the product of time and chance than those of their rulers. In his classroom we well remember his frequent use of those words in explaining the course of events in the life of a monarch or an empire.

And now "in the fullness of time"—we sometimes doubt if it were so, for in the prime of life and vigorous manhood he was called—Dr. Martzolf, student, author, educator, citizen, teacher, friend, has passed from our midst leaving, if we have faith to believe as did he, no unfinished work, for though—

"His horoscope had seemed so plainly drawn—

School triumphs, earned apace in work and play;

Friendships at will; then love's delightful dawn

And mellowing day;

Home fostering hope; some service to the State;

Benignant age; then the long tryst to keep

Where in the yew-tree shadow congregate

His fathers sleep."

—who can say that his was an untimely passing?

For many years the work of the Alumni Association was carried on almost single-handed and alone by this indomitable worker. With little to encourage and in the face of seemingly purposed discouragement, lack of interest, lack of funds, and lack of co-operation he organized the great mass of graduates and former students of Ohio University into one great group and breathed into it a soul of life and purpose.

Too much praise cannot be given for his efforts to inspire in every son and daughter a more ardent love for Alma Mater and to bind them more closely to their school. But there is much left for us to do. Dr. Martzolf did all that was humanly possible—and some things which it would seem human strength could not accomplish—yet as the new Secretary gets in touch with leaders in other schools it becomes increasingly apparent that, as an alumni body, we fall far short of being an ideal organization in our functioning and our devotion to our school. Dr. Martzolf's past labors challenge our continued and increased efforts. In the paraphrased words of John McRae:

To us from falling hands he throws
The torch; be ours to hold it high.

Down With the Reds.

"Down with the Reds" was a popular slogan on the Ohio Campus prior to the Denison-Ohio football game. Not that we have any undesirable citizens about, with I. W. W. or Bolshevich proclivities—it was the famous "Big Red" team and Coach Livingston from the Baptist school and their reputation for football ability and strategy which called forth the battle-cry from the lips of a thousand under-classmen and many more interested alumni.

Denison and Ohio have long been rivals in football, basketball, baseball, track, and debate. But in none of these fields of contention has there been a more earnest and enthusiastic rivalry than in football. Year after year have the two universities engaged in battle—a battle to which the students of both look forward with the anticipation of victory. Thorough and detailed preparation is made for each contest. There are hard practices. There are previous thuse meetings, and special trains of veteran rooters as well as veteran players who journey from one university to the other.

In all the years that Ohio University has played Denison in football, Ohio has taken the scalp of the Big Red team but once, and that was in 1918. It is not to be supposed that in all those years, Denison had a better football team than Ohio. The fact that Denison has been victorious in almost all of these battles does not prove that she turned out the best football machine, because in many cases Ohio University had the better record; but the Baptists' series of triumphs does prove something else.

There seems to have attended the Green and White team in its conflicts with Denison, what is usually called a hoodoo. Denison started out winning and she kept it up year after year. Now we are not superstitious. We are far from that; but we do believe that there is a psychological frame of mind that has attended these games that has been disastrous to Ohio. The Green and White warriors have many times entered the contest half-heartedly, already licked, and as a result, they were licked. A similar hoodoo has always characterized the annual baseball game between Ohio University and Ohio State University.

This year we were successful in "boxing" the jinx and accomplishing the downfall of the up-state team. By taking advantage of the breaks and by hard, consistent playing Ohio won. The Denison followers, while feeling the loss of the game quite keenly, were splendid sportsmen. Denison teams and their popular coach have always challenged the admiration and respect of rivals and opponents. We hope that athletic relations with the Granville school may always be maintained in a manner satisfactory to the followers of both teams.

What Is A School Worth?

"Adrian College, the Methodist Protestant institution now located at Adrian, Mich., will be re-located at Steubenville, Ohio, as a result of recent action taken by the Pittsburgh Conference of the M. P. Church. Steubenville has offered $300,000 aid as an inducement to locate there."

Thus reads an International News Service dispatch of recent date and it leads us to ponder the question of the value, in dollars and cents, of a university to a community. We wonder what another city would give to have Ohio University in its midst. The cultural value of an institution for higher education is incalculable. Athens with its fine moral tone and atmosphere of refinement and culture realizes that it would not possess these attributes in so high a degree were it not for the university. Another distinct advantage is the facilities offered to those living in the immediate vicinity of the school for securing an education while remaining at home. Statistics covering the past five years show that 82% of the graduates of the Athens High School have attended college. The stimulus and opportunity of the university at their very doors accounts for such a high percentage—the highest of any city in the state. Ohio University students and faculty spend hundreds of thousands of dollars yearly in the city. The university pay roll is the equivalent of that of a large industry and as a financial asset to the city is second to none.

We heard of a gentleman the other day who said that if it were thought to be even remotely possible to get Ohio University for his home city that the citizens would raise a million dollars over night to secure the university for their community. We are not asking for bids on Ohio University and there is no danger of a change of location but it is altogether possible that not all of the people of Athens and the state of Ohio fully appreciate the inestimable value of an institution such as ours.

Shall We Limit the Girls?

President Bryan in his last report to the Board of Trustees of Ohio University intimated that the time would soon be at hand when a limit upon the number of girls to be admitted to the University would have to be fixed. It is not because the work of the girls is not satisfactory. Ohio University has long been a co-educational institution and was one of the first schools to open its doors to women. If we are forced to close the doors to any it will be because of lack of proper accommodations. The University is growing, (41% increase in two years); the faculty is being strengthened; the material equipment increased, but because of this continued and steady expansion our needs will always be beyond our means. It cannot be hoped that the legislature will be willing to meet more than our most urgent requirements for the coming appropriation period. New buildings are needed for class room and laboratory purposes. They must be had. And this leads us to the project for the new Alumni Memorial Auditorium. We have heard the argument advanced many, many times, "Why not let the state provide the funds for the Auditorium?" This is the reason. After the state has made provision for us for the next two years there will still be many needs unmet. It is doubtful if the state at this time would appropriate funds for an auditorium in the face of our other increased demands. If Ohio University is to have the Auditorium it must be provided by her alumni and former students. Members of the legislative finance committees have repeatedly asked our trustees the significant question, "What have Ohio University alumni ever done for their school?" In the future this question must not be embarrassing. We will be helped if we will first help ourselves. On the other hand President Bryan and his board of trustees will continue to be embarrassed in legislative halls if we do not all come to their assistance. During the coming winter those who have not yet been given an opportunity to subscribe to the Auditorium Fund will be seen. The work of the Campaign is now going on in the Athens district and is soon to be opened again throughout the entire territory of the state. Every alumnus must do his duty.

This is merely the practical side of the question; the profounder question is, "are the sons and daughters of Ohio University going to fail in their efforts to erect a memorial to those who offered their lives in the wars of the past, and those who, going before, have blazed the trail for a greater and finer Ohio University?" We dare not fail.

Thanks!

Our alumni and former students are "coming across" at the present time in a manner to indicate ultimate success for the membership drive and the Bulletin publication fund. We are very far from having the amount required for the year's needs but if the subscriptions continue at the present rate we may hope for better things. Have you, kind reader, followed the dictates for your conscience and made out that check payable to the Ohio University Alumni Association? If you haven't then you are just depriving yourself and others of the only medium which most of us have of keeping in touch with the old school. Just think! We are forced, because of lack of finances, to cut down our circulation by several thousand. The cut was made on the former-student list first. We would like to send the Bulletin to all of the eighteen thousand known graduates and former students of the University but it is obviously impossible. Send in your subscription NOW and make sure of getting the Bulletin.

We want to say, "Thanks" to all who have thus far subscribed. The date of subscription has been entered in our records and all subscribers will be notified of the lapse of subscription upon anniversary dates.

—O. U.—

SOUTH - EASTERN OHIO TEACHERS MEET AT OHIO UNIVERSITY

Several hundred teachers and educators attended the annual convention of the Southeastern Ohio Teachers' Association held at Ohio University, October 27 and 28. Many Ohio graduates and former students were in attendance.

The first general session was held at 1:30 o'clock Friday afternoon at which time addresses were made by Dr. McCracken, dean of the Ohio University School of Education, and President E. B. Bryan.

Friday evening the second general session was held with Scotch songs and impersonations in costume by Mr. Compton and an address by Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, of Brooklyn, as features of the program. Dr. Frank B. Graves, Commissioner of Education of New York, was the big attraction Saturday morning at the final session. At this time committee reports were received and the election of officers held. Dr. E. B. Bryan was elected president of the organization for the coming year.

Dr. W. L. Gard, Athens, was the chairman of the tests and measurement section, before which Dr. J. L. Porter, Ohio University; Miss Lavinia Warner, (Ohio University) secretary of the International Council for the Education of Exceptional Children; and Supt. J. H. Mason, of Chillicothe, read papers.

Miss Lillie A. Faris, '09, Supt. B. O. Skinner, '12, Prof. Victor D. Hill, Dr. H. R. Wilson, '97, Miss Helen Leach, '17, Mr. Harold Mardis, '17, Supt. C. E. Stailey, '12, Mrs. Anna K. Price, '19, and Prof. T. N. Hoover are Ohio University graduates or instructors who appeared before one or more of the sessions of the convention, presenting papers or addresses.

The meeting of the Southeastern Schoolmasters' Club was held Saturday evening at a dinner at the College Cafeteria.

—O. U.—

HISTORY CLUB PRESENTS PICTURE TO ALUMNI DEPARTMENT

Respect Shown for Founder of Strong Academic Organization

The alumni and active members of the Ohio University History Club, one of the strongest academic organizations on the campus, recently manifested their love for the founder of the Club, Dr. C. L. Martzolf, by presenting the Alumni Department with an unusually fine, enlarged picture of Dr. Martzolf handsomely framed.

That members of the club appreciated the kindly and sincere interest of their former leader while in his classes is evidenced by the many beautiful tributes paid him in answer to the suggestions of the memorial picture on the part of several members of the club. More than a score of members are contributors to the fund for the purchase of the picture.

—O. U.—

OHIO GRADUATE TAKES UP WORK IN COLLEGE AT DEFIANCE, OHIO

After sixteen years a missionary in South America, Frank J. Batterson, '98, has just become professor of Spanish in Defiance College. He holds degrees from Ohio University and Drew Theological Seminary.

His last work in South America was as superintendent of the North America Academy at Montevideo, Uruguay. Since coming to Defiance College, he has organized a Spanish Club at the meetings of which only the Spanish language is spoken.

Mr. Batterson has three other Ohio University graduates as colleagues on the Defiance College faculty. Miss Blanche Howe, '15, of Athens; Mr. Stanley Lewis, '19, of Gallipolis, and Mr. William G. Meinke, '17, are also officially connected with that institution. Miss Howe is a teacher of Psychology. Mr. Lewis of History, and Mr. Meinke of German.

"THE FILLING STATION"

You see our new and ambitious Alumni Secretary has been striving desperately to fill his bulletin. He put in as many pictures as he could afford; he spaced liberally; he gave every one who wished a chance to speak. Still there remained a whole page which was entirely unoccupied. After infinite worry and only when it was evident that no other aid was obtainable he turned to me. It made no difference what I should write. If I could produce about five hundred words which might be spread out in such fashion as to cover that page I should win gratitude and should be paid according to the regular space rates of this magazine. And so I now announce to the public of this University the opening of The Filling Station and respectfully solicit your patronage.

"THE BOSS"

I rather like this idea. For over ten years now I have been forming friendships on this campus and have seen these friendships interrupted, too often ended, by graduation. Now I can pick these up again and talk through the medium of this page with all my old friends. True, they will have small opportunity for reply, but I have noticed that in conversations with returning alumni I seldom give them a chance to get in a word. I am afraid I am one of those who take the duties of conversation too conscientiously.

Yesterday, for example, old Tom Wolfe dropped in on us. He and I had a most delightful talk for an hour. He said, "How's things?" and then I replied for fifty-nine and one-half minutes. Occasionally he seemed to grow restless and acted as if he were about to interrupt. I nipped all attempts at interruption, however, by a method of my own which consists largely of shutting the eyes and raising the voice. It was a very pleasant hour for me. A little rough on Tom, perhaps, but I am willing to do the generous thing by him and by the rest of you.

When you get home write out your end of the conversation. If I didn't listen I will read. In fact that arrangement would save me some embarrassment. When I go home now and announce that I have seen an old friend, the C. O. of our outfit always wants to know what he had to say. Since in all probability the O. F. failed to get beyond the preliminary "How's things?" my report is unsatisfactory.

I have one good reason for wishing to talk to Alumni, and in this I feel exactly like everybody else on this campus. There is a new spirit of pride in the institution which we all share now. We feel like boasting a little over our recent achievements and our prospects for the future. Time was when we felt the necessity sometimes of apologizing for, or at least explaining certain features of the University. When in a mood for boasting, we fell back upon the ancient history of the college. We made much of the phrase, "The oldest college west of the Alleghanies." We no longer boast our antiquity; of what we were. We are quite ready now to brag of what we are.

We have a story to tell now that you will be glad to listen to. If you get a chance, come down and hear it. And if you wish more particulars or require advice on financial or domestic problems, let me know.

C. H. Mackinnon

Grand Old Man Celebrates Golden Wedding

Dr. D. J. Evans Honored by Friends. For Forty Years Head of the Department of Latin.

Amid choice flowers, the gifts of friends, Dr. and Mrs. Dafydd J. Evans with their children received numerous friends Saturday afternoon, October 21, at their home in Athens. The reception was arranged by the children of Dr. and Mrs. Evans in commemoration of the 50th anniversary of their wedding. Many remembrances were received as were letters and telegrams from absent friends and former students. Dr. Evans has lived in Athens many years where for nearly half a century he taught Latin as a member of the Ohio University faculty and was the beloved friend of hundreds of students. Dr. Evans has now retired from active service but is still keenly interested in the life of the University.

D. J. ("Daddy," as he is affectionately known) Evans was born August 22, 1846, near Oak Hill in Jackson County, Ohio. He matriculated at Ohio University, March 26, 1866. During his college career he was a member of the Philomathean Literary society and of Delta Tau Delta fraternity. He was graduated with the degree of Bachelor of Arts in 1871 and received his Master's degree in 1874.

The year following his graduation, Dr. Evans served as superintendent of the Nelsonville public schools. The next year he held a similar position at West Jefferson, O., and from 1873 to 1880 he occupied the chair of science in Union Christian College, in Indiana. From 1880-1882 he was principal of the Putnam Collegiate Institute (for women) located at Zanesville, O. It was in 1882 that he received the call to the chair of Latin at Ohio University where he taught until the fall of 1920. Dr. Evans taught in every summer school held by the University from the time of his connection to the time of his retirement. He served as a full college professor for over 48 years and engaged in public school work for six more years.

When Dr. Evans came to the University as a student it was in the twentieth year of the administration of President Howard. When he returned as teacher, President William H. Scott held the executive office. The faculty consisted of some seven members and the enrollment numbered seventy-five. As "secretary" of the University it was Dr. Evans' duty to call the roll at the daily chapel exercises when every student had to be "present or accounted for." It was not for several years after 1882 that the enrollment reached the one hundred mark. Dr. Evans recalls well arising one morning in chapel and announcing to Miss Edith Woodruff, (Mrs. E. D. Sayre, '88), that she had become number 100 on the official roll of Ohio University. The colleagues of Dr. Evans when he became a member of the faculty were Dr. Scott, Dr. Super, Prof. Coler, Prof. Devol, Prof. Mees, and a lady whose name Dr. Evans was momentarily unable to recall.

There were six members of the class of 1871, two of whom subsequently became lawyers, two doctors, and two teachers. Judge Henry W. Coultrap, McArthur, O., and Dr. Evans are the surviving members of their class.

In 1872, Dr. Evans was married to Miss Lydia Margaret Lash who was born a few miles south of Athens and who, with the exception of ten years, has lived her entire life in the city of Athens. To them were born four children, three of whom are still living, and who returned to aid in the celebration of the recent wedding anniversary.

One son, J. Claire Evans, '01, is a metallurgical engineer in Denver, Colo. Another son, Rhys D. Evans, '09, is Research Physicist for the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., at Cuyahoga Falls, O. A daughter, Mrs. Arthur H. Carpenter, of Chicago, was a Junior in Ohio University at the time of her marriage. Two grandchildren, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter, are at present students in the University.

During the Thanksgiving season of 1920 Dr. Evans was stricken with deafness accompanied by a long illness. Until the following summer he was unable to leave his home. Because of his deafness he was forced to resign and in June, 1921, severed an official connection with the University of 40 years. On the occasion of his retirement the faculty and alumni raised a sum of money, the interest from which was to furnish a prize for superior attainment in Latin studies by the students of the University. This is known as the Dafydd J. Evans prize.

Friends of Dr. Evans will be glad to know that he has now recovered from his long and severe illness and that, with the exception of his deafness, he has never been in better health. He is 76 years old but cheerful, active, and interested in the affairs of University and city. His chief joys at present are the many letters he receives from friends and former students.

The School of Music of Ohio University

By CLARENCE C. ROBINSON, Director

The old-fashioned idea that music has no real educative value or place in our school and college curriculum, has undeniably been supplanted by a genuine recognition not only of its value but of its necessity as a factor in the development of the individual for citizenship and life's pursuits. At present only a few of our larger and more important institutions of learning afford no opportunity in musical instruction and this is confined mostly to the technical schools, with the notable exception of Carnegie Institute of Technology which itself has a well-rounded course. The time is here when a man or woman in the every-day contacts with his fellow-men feels at a decided disadvantage without at least a little familiarity with things cultural such as music, art, or sculpture.

It has been suggested that I contribute a statement to the Ohio University Bulletin concerning the present activities and the future aims of the School of Music. It is a source of satisfaction to state that the growth of the School has been quite in keeping with the added enrollment of the general student-body this year. There are nearly two hundred individuals taking music subjects which includes students from the school of Education, Kindergarten, Liberal Arts, those specializing in the School of Music for the diploma or the degree, pupils from the Athens High School and citizens of the town, as well as several from neighboring communities.

The aim of the faculty is to present a flexible and comprehensive curriculum that will be able to care for the needs of each pupil enrolled, whether it be a public school supervisor, kindergarten teacher or a musical career. Besides the effort to fit the curriculum to the individual who takes special work, it is the aim to foster a musical atmosphere, and to create a community desire and taste for the better things in music. Where else, other than a University campus, should one have greater opportunity to hear the best? Ohio University is about to have one of the finest of Memorial Halls, making it possible to bring the largest of musical ensembles to us. But before this Hall can function to a full extent community taste must be on a level with its sculptural standards. The School of Music aims to be a most active factor in furthering the steady progress toward this goal.

The present housing of the School of Music is wholly inadequate for the demands put upon it in carrying on the regular work, to say nothing of realization of its aims for the future. As an example of the overcrowded conditions I may cite two instances that are vitally against progress; first, it is impossible to book the required practice for all the students taking music, in order that they may profit fully in their endeavor; secondly, the studios of the faculty members are booked all day for practice, except during teaching hours, giving no place to the teachers for office work, or their own personal musical progress, a condition that has not existed before in the history of the School. The need for a permanent building is recognized by the University authorities and we are hopeful for the future. With the new building should come new equipment. Progress is hard to maintain on inferior instruments, and while some of them are worthy, others are not conducive to the development of musicianship and skill. We should have several practice organs in order to encourage this essential part of a music curriculum. With a splendid organ in the new Memorial Hall, we should now be developing candidates capable of competent execution on it.

A representative and well-coordinated faculty is carrying on with efficiency and inspiration the work of the School. Several names will be new to the Alumni. The personnel is as follows:

*Clarence C. Robinson, Director. Voice, Higher Theory and Choral Conducting.

Sirouhee T. Arpee, Advanced Piano, and Solosist.

Allen R. Kresge, Piano, Organ and Harmony.

*Mrs. Clarence C. Robinson, Advanced Piano and Accompanist.

Mrs. Francis R. Hizzy, Preparatory Piano and Soloist.

Miss Nellie Van Vorhes, Preparatory Piano.

*Mrs. Margaret A. Benedict, Voice.

*Miss Joy Cutler, Voice.

*Miss Helen Hedden, Voice and Music History.

C. C. Robinson

Mr. John Newman Hizey, Violin and Orchestra.

Mrs. Helen Falloon Stevens, Voice.

*New members.

In close association with the School of Music faculty are the teachers of Public School Music, Misses Garber, Goddard and Earhart, which bespeaks a co-operation profitable to the students. Faculty meetings are held monthly in order to keep abreast of the times and make the Music curriculum at Ohio University an ever-changing organism adaptable to current needs.

A big impetus has been given to the student musical organizations this year, and interest in each phase is most keen. The Girls' Glee Club of forty members has already established itself as a superior vocal organization, having appeared before the District convention of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, and before the student-body at Wednesday convocation. The Men's Glee Club of thirty-two members is developing rapidly with high standards. They are scheduled to appear at convocation shortly. Both of these organizations will combine in a joint concert in Ewing Hall immediately following the Thanksgiving holiday period. Several trips are in prospect for both organizations, and their efforts will serve as a splendid medium of publicity for the University and will be second to none of the other college organizations of the State. Application has already been made by the Men's Glee Club to the Intercollegiate Glee Club Corporation for membership, which will afford them opportunity to compete each year, either in Chicago or New York for a cup against such Clubs as Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Penn State, et cetera.

The Choral Society has organized and will give as their first presentation Cole-ridge-Taylor's "Death of Minnehaha," a most colorful and beautiful cantata, some time before Christmas. The Orchestra, under Prof. Hizey, is whipping into shape under his competent leadership, and will make their first appearance in the near future. The College Band, under Jess Davis, Bandmaster, has already shown its calibre at the football games, and has proved an undeniable factor as a stimulant to enthusiasm. Their playing is good and the re-establishment of the Band as a permanent organization is a popular move on the campus.

Several students in the School of Music entered as contestants in the Fisteddfod at Jackson, Ohio, while some of the advanced students will compete in the annual contest of music students for the prizes offered by the Federation of Music Clubs to be held at Zanesville in April, with the aim of further competition in the National contest at Washington, D. C. A feature of the departmental activities is the special musical number furnished for each Wednesday convocation, either by faculty members, advanced students or choral and instrumental organizations.

The process of development and progress is a matter of time, of course, but with conditions in our favor, no effort will be spared by the faculty to make the School of Music at Ohio University the peer of any in the State, and among the leaders of the country.

EDITOR'S NOTE

A less detailed announcement appears elsewhere of the appointment of the new members of the faculty of the School of Music. Enthusiasm on the part of authorities and students alike is expected to be justified by the work of the school. As director, Prof. C. C. Robinson brings to Ohio University a fund of knowledge, experience, and rare ability which has marked him as a leader in national musical circles.

Mr. Robinson is a student of Frederick W. Root and Emil Leibling of Chicago. For seven years he engaged in concert work with the Slayton-Redpath Bureau. During 1908-09 he was head of the Voice department of the University of Oklahoma. From 1912 until the present year he was Director of Music at Penn State College, State College, Pa.

Prof. Robinson has many vocal compositions to his credit, including songs, anthems, part-songs, and arrangements. Over 60 of his compositions and arrangements have been published by the Oliver Ditson Co., Boston; and 15 by the Theo. Presser Co., of Philadelphia. He is a member of Kappa Alpha fraternity; Musicians' Club of New York; National Supervisors' Conference; National Music Teachers' Association; and the Pennsylvania State Teachers' Association.

At Penn State Mr. Robinson conducted one of the leading men's Glee Clubs in the east. His clubs participated three years in the competitions of the Intercollegiate Glee Club Corporation held in New York and twice received honorable mention. If improvement continues the director hopes to take the Ohio University Men's Club to California and Panama next year.

Mrs. Robinson, instructor in Piano, is a pupil of Scharwenka, Liebling and Versel.

Miss Helen Hedden (contralto) is a collegiate graduate of the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music and a former director of music at Glendale College, Glendale, O.

Miss Jov Cutler (soprano) is a graduate of the Columbia School of Music, Chicago, Ill. She was formerly teacher of Voice at Kansas State Agricultural College and Guilford College in Mississippi.

Mrs. Margaret A. Benedict (soprano) has an A. B. degree and a music certificate from Wilson College for Women, and has done advanced work with Herbert Wither- spoon and in Chicago Musical College.

Former Commencement Speaker Passed Away in East Stroudsburg, Pennsylvania.

Miss Anna Elizabeth Kurtz, '01, died at the home of her mother in East Stroudsburg, Pa., Thursday morning, September 7, following an operation which she underwent in the Flower Hospital, New York City, April last.

Miss Kurtz graduated from Ohio University in 1901 and was at one time a member of the faculty. For twenty years prior to her death she had been an instructor in the East Stroudsburg State Normal School in the course of which time she became a powerful influence for good and an inspiration in the lives of hundreds of students.

Miss Kurtz was born at North Water Gap, Pa. She was graduated from the Edinboro State Normal School, after which she went to the East Stroudsburg State Normal School to finish her scientific course. From the latter school she came to Ohio University where she received her A. B. degree. Later she received a Master's degree for work in geology and geography at Columbia University. She taught science in New Philadelphia, Ohio, and geology in the preparatory department of Ohio University. In addition to her activities in the East Stroudsburg State Normal School for several summers she was assistant to Dr. Grabau, professor of geology at Columbia University.

Miss Kurtz was a member of the national Geographic Society; a member of the national Educational Association; and a Fellow of the Council of the American Geographical Society. She had made many contributions to the work of her particular field of science. Her ability and attainments were unquestioned. Two of the largest and most complete geological collections of eastern Pennsylvania are those worked out by Miss Kurtz.

Tributes in the form of letters and memorials received by the family were many. In accordance with the desire of her sister the members of the Class of 1901 were notified by letter, through the Alumni Office, of the death of Miss Kurtz.

It will be remembered by all who attended the Alumni Dinner during the commencement season of 1921 that Miss Kurtz delivered the very splendid address of the occasion.

The following is copied from a letter written by Miss Kurtz to members of her family while at the hospital in New York a short time prior to her death. It evidences the supreme faith she had in her Creator and a deeply religious nature.

"I do not fear death. It is the event that frees the living soul (spirit)—breathed by God into the physical body of Adam—from the mortal body. It is the event that permits me to see my Savior, and spend eternity with Him. There I shall meet dear ones who passed over before. I shall be there to greet the dear ones who shall come across one by one. This eternal, immortal spirit, created in the image of God, is now free to wing its flight to the great loving bosom of the Father. The physical body evolved through the ages, under the watchful loving eye of the Creator, to be the earthly tabernacle of the spirit disintegrates and returns to the elements as do all physical things. If my work on earth is not finished, my life will be spared; but, if my work is finished, why wish to stay here a few years longer. His will be done."

—O. U.—

FACULTY AND TRUSTEE DINNER AT LINDLEY HALL, OCT. 17

A most pleasing feature in college circles was the dinner Tuesday evening, Oct. 17, at Lindley Hall for the members of the faculty and their wives and the trustees and their wives. Covers were laid for two hundred and fifty and there were no vacant chairs. The dinner was served in faultless style under the direction of Miss Farnum, institutional director. Dr. Bryan spoke of the fine spirit of cooperation among the faculty and the student body and declared that no better corps of instructors could be found in Ohio. The two speakers of the evening were Dean Chubb of the College of Liberal Arts and Dean McCracken of the College of Education. Both spoke in high terms of the splendid spirit of the University as manifested in the class room, on the campus and in the faculty conferences.

The affair was most happy thruout and proved to be a real get-together where the many new members of the faculty had opportunity to get acquainted with all their co-workers.

THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES

Board Hires Teachers—Additions to Ohio Faculty Are Notable—Score of New Teachers Take Up Work Here.

An imposing list of additions has been made to the faculty of Ohio University this year, and the instructional force now contains men who have become nationally prominent in their particular fields. President E. B. Bryan feels that Ohio University is indeed fortunate in securing professors of such distinction, and he predicts a great future for the institution thru having them on the faculty.

Thomas C. McCracken comes as Dean of the College of Education, succeeding Dean McIntire, who died during the summer. Dean McCracken received the degree of A. B. from Monmouth, and A. M. and Ph. D. from Harvard. While a graduate student at Harvard he taught classes in Radcliffe and in Harvard University. He was professor of education at the University of Utah for some time, and for the past eight years has been dean of the Graduate School of the State Teachers' College of Colorado. He comes to Ohio University as Dean of the College of Education and professor of school administration.

James P. Porter, who takes up his duties as professor of psychology is a graduate of Indiana University. He received his Ph. D. degree from Clark University, and has been dean and professor of psychology at Clark. He is the editor of the American Journal of Applied Psychology.

C. C. Robinson will be the director of the School of Music. He has been head of the department of music at Penn State College for eight years. Mrs. Robinson will become teacher of piano.

As director of athletics, O. C. Bird will put into operation the School of Physical Education. Mr. Bird is a graduate of the arts and physical education courses at Oberlin. He taught at the School of Physical Education at Chautauqua, N. Y., for two years. For three years he was associated with L. W. St. John, director of athletics at Ohio State University. He organized the physical education work for the city of Minneapolis, and for two years he was director of physical education for the state of Alabama. He comes to Ohio University as professor of physical education and as director of athletics.

Wilmer C. Harris is professor of history in the College of Liberal Arts, being the successor to Dr. Martzolf, who died during the summer. Professor Harris is a graduate of the University of Chicago and received his M. A. from Michigan University and his Ph. D. from Chicago. He was a teacher of history at Ohio State University for four years, and for the past three years he has been head of the department of history at Butler College, Indianapolis.

L. E. Crossman, who comes as professor of economics, received his M. A. and Ph. D. degrees at the University of Michigan. For three years he was head of the department of economics at Marietta College.

C. E. Cooper, who comes to Ohio University as professor of geography, is a graduate of the Ypsilanti Normal School of Michigan. He is the recipient of degrees of A. B. and M. A. from the university of Michigan. He has been professor in both the state normal school of Washington and in the state normal school of Illinois.

H. G. Good, a graduate of Indiana University, becomes professor of education. He received his Ph. D. at the University of Pennsylvania and was professor at Colgate for three years.

The principal of the Training School will be A. F. Myers, former school superintendent of Port Clinton, Ohio. He is a Columbia University man.

Raymer McQuiston will be an assistant professor of English this year. He is a graduate of the University of Kansas, where he received degrees of A. B. and M. A. He has done graduate work at the University of Kansas and at Harvard.

A. C. Robinson, a University of Pennsylvania man, comes as assistant professor of mathematics in the College of Liberal Arts. He was for three years a teacher of mathematics in the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis.

In addition to being superintendent of the Infirmary, Miss Elsie Drugan will give courses in hygiene and nursing. She is a graduate nurse and has been superintendent of four different city hospitals. She comes to Ohio University from Mansfield, O.

The institutional manager this year will be Miss Mary Farnam, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin. She has been institutional manager at Lake Forest.

Miss Louise Eckel succeeds Miss Edna Endly as director of home economics. Miss Ida Patterson, who will be a teacher of home economics, has been a teacher at Ohio State University.

Miss Joy Cutler succeeds Miss Mary Henderson and Miss Helen Hedden will take the place left vacant by Mrs. A. S. Thompson in the School of Music. Miss Elizabeth Earhart, '22, will be an instructor in public school music. Mrs. Margaret A. Benedict will substitute this year for Miss Florence Hawkins in the school of music.

Miss Nellie Dubois and Miss Virginia Currier will succeed Miss Crossett in the department of public school art.

Neil Thomas, '22, has been appointed as instructor in civil engineering with Prof. Addicott.

In addition to the professors, assistant professors and instructors already listed there are also many student assistants attached to each department.

—O. U.—

WOULD LIMIT NUMBER OF GIRL STUDENTS AT OHIO U.

Board Hears Annual Report of President Bryan

Because of the lack of facilities for their care, limitation of the number of women attending Ohio University is desired by President Bryan, according to the statement he made Wednesday afternoon in the course of his report to the board of trustees which convened for the first time this school term. President Bryan stated that every available dormitory space and approved space in private homes is occupied by the young women of the student body.

He declared that the number of young women is such that he feels, in justice to them and the university, that it may be advisable in the immediate future to restrict the number of young women applying at the university until it has additional dormitory facilities. The women students at present number approximately 950. This proposal of President Bryan aroused an interesting discussion among the seventeen board members present and they continued the question until the next meeting of the board.

The trustees gave authority to the finance and building committees of the university to accept bids, to let the contract, and to go ahead with the construction of the new gymnasium, plans for which have been approved by the state architect. The board also ratified the appointment of Dr. Thomas C. McCracken, formerly dean of the State Teachers' College of Colorado, as dean of the College of Education at a salary of $4500 to succeed Dean W. W. McIntire, deceased, and the appointment of Professor Wilmer C. Harris, formerly of Butler College, as Professor of History in the College of Arts at a salary of $3000 to succeed Dr. C. L. Martzloff, deceased.

Attendance Greater

The increase in attendance this year at Ohio University is an increase of 40 per cent over the last two years, according to the report of President Bryan. There are 1510 students enrolled for this semester, an increase of 179 over last year. There was a total of 2,973 students enrolled in the summer sessions, 1,924 in the regular session and 1,049 in the continuation term. President Bryan declared that the student body seems to be recovering from the evil effects of the war, the S. A. T. C. and other disturbances due to the war and that the instructors report satisfaction in the work of the student body.

Committees were appointed to draft resolutions on the deaths of Trustee L. G. Fenton, Wilmington; Dean McIntire and Professor Martzloff. The board went on record as favoring, as soon as the university finances permit, an increase in the salary of department heads from $3000 to $3600 a year, or to a par with those given departmental heads at Miami University.

The appointment of committees was announced by President Bryan and the committees were given authority to act in their respective lines during the recess of the board of trustees. The committees appointed are as follows:

Finance—Hopkins, Davis, Biddle, Wood.
Teachers and Salaries—Collicott, Thomas, Davidson.

Buildings and Grounds—Biddle, Jones, O'Brien.

Publicity—Johnson, Sheppard, Bush, and Crow.

University Conference—Bush, Foster, Thomas, and Hogan.

Library—Antrim, Wood, Hogan, Jones.

Extension—Eikenberry, Kinnison, Appel.

Teacher Training—McVay, Cookson, Collicott.

Auditing—Lash, Coultrap, Hamblin.

The president of the board of trustees is the chairman of all committees.

The board members present at the meeting included Hamblin, Davidson, Jones, Wood, Coultrap, Biddle, O'Brien, Hopkins, Kinnison, Lash, McVay, Bush, Collicott, Shepard, Thomas, and Dr. Bryan.

ON THE CAMPUS

Concert and Lecture Courses

As in the past the Women's Music Club of Athens is sponsoring a very strong musical course this year. The attractions provided by the club are for the benefit of students and townspeople alike and are well supported. The course this year is as follows: Riccardo Martin, tenor; Maurice Dumesnil, French pianist; Carolina Lazzari, contralto; Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra, and the Complimentary Concert given by the members of the Music Club.

Professors Hoover and Gullum are managing the Athens Lecture Course in the interest of the Y. W. C. A. One hundred dollars has already been appropriated from the proceeds of the course for the furtherance of the splendid work carried on by the Ohio University girls. The Lecture Course consists of the following numbers: "Cappy Ricks," a play by a New York cast; Di Giorgio Orchestra; Hilton I. Jones, scientist; Jess Pugh, humorist; Montague Light Opera Singers; Lew Sarett, poet and woodsman; and Prof. Geoffrey Morgan, formerly of Ohio University.

The College Play

The Department of Public Speaking has been fortunate in securing a special concession from George M. Cohan, leading American actor and play-wright, to produce one of Mr. Cohan's eminent successes, "A Prince There Was." Presentation of this New York success will require the very best talent on the campus. The play will rank very favorably with the best plays which the department has yet offered.

Since 1915, the Public Speaking department has presented the following plays with unusual success: "Passing of the Third Floor Back," "The County Chairman," "The Man of the Hour," "Green Stockings," "Her Husband's Wife," "The Doll House," "The Fortune Hunter," "Get-Rich-Quick-Wallingford," "The Merchant of Venice," "Stop Thief," "Mrs. Temple's Telegram," "The Dictator," "The Lottery Man," and "Officer 666."

Noted Speaker Here

Colvin B. Brown, national organizer and lecturer for the United States Chamber of Commerce, was a recent campus visitor. He was in Athens to address the local Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Brown's father graduated from Ohio University in 1845. Mr. Brown was greatly pleased to visit the school about which he had been told much by his father.

Our Picture Took

Wednesday, October 4, witnessed the taking of a picture of the entire university group including board of trustees, faculty and student body. The group was seated on a semi-circle of seats ten rows high on the northwest corner of the campus, opposite Howard Hall. The picture was unusually fine.

The "Y" Campaign

The Y. M. C. A. is preparing to open a financial and membership campaign. Their budget this year calls for $975 to be disbursed as follows:

Association and special meetings, speakers, etc.	$150.00
Publicity	50.00
Socials	50.00
Conference Expenses	100.00
Office assistance	300.00
Office expenditures	100.00
State, international and foreign association work	150.00
Social Service	75.00

The budget for 1921-1922 was for $1100 which was $125 more than the amount asked for this year.

Noted Physician Lectures

Under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A., Dr. Blake of New York, delivered a series of lectures to the girls of Ohio University. "Health Essentials" was the key-note of the addresses which were followed by personal conferences. Dr. Blake was most cordially received by the Ohio girls.

Oratorical Contest in March

Participation in this year's Oratorical Contest will be open to the three upper classes only. The time of this annual affair has been changed from June until March to eliminate conflicts with other events of the closing month of school. Three prizes are offered this year. The interest is keen and points to the restitution of the contest to its former popularity. The contest is in the charge of Dean Chubb, Dr. Wilson, Prof. Cooper, and the active members of Tau Kappa Alpha, honorary debate fraternity.

Main Street

No, Sinclair Lewis had nothing to do with this particular "Main Street." We refer to Main Street, Athens, Ohio. Former students and graduates will recall the rough surface of the paving of our principal thoroughfare. Faculty members and students alike, swore with equal ardor as they marched the length of the rough and bumpy street in the days of the academic parade. Dignity was shattered when one pitched forward as the result of an inadvertant step. Shell-torn roads of France had little on our main "drag." But now that a new street of concrete, brick, and asphalt has been laid, all may ride over it with comfort and processions may proceed without danger of losing their members in holes by the wayside.

All Bored

As a preface to his speech following the Faculty-Trustee dinner held at Lindley Hall, October 17, Dean Chubb remarked that "You are met here this evening as faculty and board. Before I have finished my speech I presume that you will all be board (bored)." Ah! Who, having sat at the feet of our good friend, Dr. Chubb, through the pleasurable hours of a Shakespearean in-oculation, will forget the rich vein of humor varying from the light and happy touches to subtle satire and the quick retort which enlivened the work of his class room. Students still continue to get as much Chubb as Shakespeare out of his courses and suffer no disappointment in them.

—O. U.—

STUDENTS REGISTERED FROM EIGHTY-SEVEN COUNTIES OF OHIO

The Ohio University has become almost an All-Ohio University this year because eighty-seven counties of the eighty-eight are represented. Last year there were but eighty-one counties from which there were students. This shows an increased representation of six counties in one year.

Counties with the highest numbers are: Athens, 373; Fairfield, 48; Jackson, 42; Perry, 39; Washington, 39; Hocking, 38;

Meigs, 37; Knox, 30; Franklin, 29; Muskingum, 29; Columbiana, 28; Gallia, 27; Scioto, 27; Vinton, 27; Licking, 26; Ashtabula, 25; Jefferson, 25; Tuscarawas, 24; Delaware, 22; Pickaway, 21; Trumbull, 21.

There are 1512 students enrolled in the University this year as compared with 1330 of the first semester last year. This marks an increase of 182 students, or 13.68 per cent. Of this total number of students, 954 are women and 558 are men. Six hundred and twenty-five students have never enrolled before.

Final registration figures of the first semester of last year reveal that there were 112 students from outside of the state; this year there are 94. Their distribution according to largest numbers from each state is as follows:

West Virginia, 48; Pennsylvania, 9; Indiana, 8; New York, 7; Illinois, 6; Kentucky, 4; Wisconsin, 2; and one from each of the following: Connecticut, France, Kansas, Massachusetts, Missouri, New Jersey, New Mexico, North Carolina, Oklahoma and Virginia.

—O. U.—

GREAT INTEREST TAKEN IN THE FALL CLASS ELECTIONS

Fall class elections have elicited an unusual amount of spirit and interest this year. Every office has been closely contested for by representative members of the various classes. A healthful and altogether satisfactory spirit prevailed and a freedom from "Campus politics" and unfair methods of campaigning. Officers have been chosen as follows:

Senior Class—President, William Walsh, Athens, O.; Vice-President, Warren C. Clements, Athens, O.; Secretary, Louise Hartford, Uhrichsville, O.; Treasurer, Roland Welch, Ashtabula, O.

Junior Class—President, Gordon Herrold, Athens, O.; Vice-President, Leonard Tinker, Athens, O.; Secretary, Winifred Rosino, Sandusky, O.; Treasurer, Sara Fitton, Bellaire, O.

Sophomore Class—President, James E. McCleary, Columbus, O.; Vice-President, Harold Wise, Athens, O.; Secretary, Aubrey Stoutenburg, Norwalk, O.; Treasurer, Josephine Stiers, Washington, Pa.

Freshman Class—President, Foster Crumley, Athens, O.; Vice-President, Rudolph Pedigo, Athens, O.; Secretary, Caroline Chubb, Philadelphia, Pa.; Treasurer, James Goddard, Wellston, O.

The elections of the two lower classes were supervised by the Junior-Senior Governing Board of the Men's Union with the faculty committee, Prof. McLaughlin, Dr. Gamertsfelder, Prof. Wilkinson, and Rev. Bond, acting as judges.

DE ALUMNIS

'79—Rev. Adam J. Hawk has changed his address from Wellston to Newark, O. At a recent conference of the M. E. Church, he was transferred to the Neal Ave. M. E. Church, Newark, O.

'92—W. B. Lawrence is prominent in real estate and financial circles in Athens, Ohio.

'92—Frederick W. Bush, Athens editor and publisher, was this fall re-elected president of the Select List of Ohio Dailies.

'93—Charles G. Matthews continues as the librarian of the Carnegie Library at Ohio University.

'93—Bertha Wallace McVay is a teacher in the high school at Waldo, Ohio.

'95—Israel M. Foster, trustee and graduate of Ohio University, was nominated for a second term as Congressman from the tenth Ohio district by an overwhelming majority in the August primaries. Mr. Foster is a comparatively young man in Congressional circles but has gained an enviable position of leadership and influence.

'96—David H. Thomas sits on the bench of the Common Pleas Court of Washington County, at Marietta, O.

'96—A "knight of the grip" is Clarence W. Murphy. He is a traveling salesman with headquarters at Columbus, O.

'99—B. E. Morse is an engineer in High- and Park, Mich.

'01—Clarence H. Horn, of Athens, O., is secretary to the president of the Poston Consolidated Coal Co. Mr. Horn is an expert on Income Tax accounting and a lecturer in the Ohio University School of Commerce.

'02—Grace Stickney underwent a serious surgical operation in a Columbus hospital during August from which she recovered rapidly. Miss Stickney is a notary public and secretary for a prominent law firm in Athens, O.

'04—The Spencerian School of Commerce engages the time and services of Belle Bishop as a member of its faculty.

'05—The legal profession engages the attention of Geo. W. Tooill of Columbus, O.

'06—J. C. Timberman is superintendent of the Wellston Public Schools. The following Ohio University graduates are a part of the faculty of Wellston High School: John F. Glandon, '20, Principal; Lillian Colley, '20, French and Latin; Margaret George, '22, Spanish and English; Frances Leonard, '22, English.

'06—Address Frederick H. Winter as Auditor, The American Clay Products Co., Zanesville, Ohio.

'08—Harry W. Mayes, M. D., is a practicing physician in Brooklyn, N. Y.

'09—Thomas W. Minesinger tills the soil at New Cumberland, W. Va.

'10—C. O. Williamson is a member of the faculty of Wooster College and a member of the Wooster city council.

'10—John J. Richeson is the head of the city school system of Decatur, Ill. Prof. Richeson was formerly Dean of the State Normal College, Ohio University.

'10—Emma S. Kratsch is teaching in the schools of Massillon, O.

'10—Madge Lindsay is a teacher in Shaw High School, East Cleveland, Ohio.

'10—Rev. Harley A. Tuttle is the minister of the M. E. Church of Funk, Ohio.

'10—Dr. Alfred E. Livingston and Mrs. Livingston (Mabel Howell, '11) with their two children visited friends and relatives in Athens during the summer. Dr. Livingston is a professor in the University of Pennsylvania.

'11—Prof. Ernest C. Miller is Registrar and Professor of Modern Languages at Transylvania College, Lexington, Ky.

'12—A modern hardware and plumbing store is conducted by Fred S. Wheaton at Athens, Ohio.

'12—C. F. Sharp is engaged in the automobile business at Springfield, O.

'13—Cashier of the Goodyear Cotton Mills, Inc., is the title of Ira A. McDaniels, Danielson, Conn.

'13—A Ross Alkire, banker, Mt. Sterling, Ohio, has the honor of being the first alumnus to contribute to the Alumni Bulletin Fund following the last appeal.

'14—Dr. Elsie Griesheimer called on Athens friends the first week in October. Miss Griesheimer is now serving as assistant professor of Physiology at the University of Minnesota. She will complete her M. D. degree work this year at the same university.

'14—Samuel B. Lehman was another October visitor. Mr. Layman is assistant professor of Plant Pathology at the University of North Carolina. He has been granted a year's leave of absence with full pay and plans to spend the time in research work in the Missouri Botanical Gardens at St. Louis.

'14—Hackensack, New Jersey, is the home of Genevieve B. Thurlow. Miss Thurlow is an organist and teacher of violin.

'14—Arloa J. Spracklen teaches is the Youngstown, O., schools.

'14—Anne Pickering is head of the English Department and Advisor to girls in Athens High School.

'14—Carrie C. Junod of Allentown, Pa., has opened a fine, large restaurant and cafeteria in the Pennsylvania city and is very successful as its manager.

'14—Rev. Carroll Stewart and Mrs. Stewart (Anna Robinson, '14) report a change in residence from Millersburg to Scienceville, O.

'14—Mrs. Harry Hallenback (Florence Nelson) has returned from Paris, France. In France, Mr. Hallenback was engaged in government construction work. He is now located in Pittsburg with the Standard Steel Car Co.

'15—Harry C. Wilson, formerly director of Athletics in the high school at Huntingtown, W. Va., is now engaged in similar work in the East Cleveland High School, East Cleveland, Ohio.

'15—Ruth Hoffert is teaching this year in Toledo, Ohio.

'15—Charles H. Bunch is Secretary-Treasurer of the Acme Electric & Mfg. Co., Cleveland, Ohio.

'15—Prof. and Mrs. J. A. Place, of Kalamazoo, Mich., were Athens visitors in September.

'16—This is the fourth year for Goldie M. Stone as a teacher in the Barberton, O., schools.

'16—F. Darrell Moore and Carl Keis, '22, are students this year in the Harvard School of Business Administration.

'17—Clinton P. Biddle of Boston, Mass., spent a recent week-end with his parents in Athens and witnessed the Denison-Ohio football game. Leaving for Washington he spoke before the Supply Division of the U. S. Navy on "Business Cycles." Mr. Biddle is Assistant Dean of the Harvard School of Business Administration.

'17—Dana T. Burns is the professor of Public Speaking at Baldwin-Wallace College, Berea, Ohio.

'17—Conneaut High School is the working address of Faye Dinsmoor. Miss Dinsmoor is instructor of mathematics.

'17—Augusta M. Goddard is teaching public school music at Ohio University.

'17—A word from Clara E. Vester tells of her pleasant location in the high school at Indianola, Nebraska.

'17—Morningside Avenue has an attractive sound. It is the New York City address of Grace Hawthorne.

'17—Jean Eagles is the primary supervisor in the Conneaut, Ohio, schools.

'17—Jack Grethen was married, June 20, to a southern girl residing in Alabama. Mr. and Mrs. Grethen are now at home in Miami, Florida. No further particulars were learned.

'17—Hazel Roach spent four weeks vacationing in the Catskill and Adirondack Mountains and in New York City before returning to her school work.

'17—Kenneth H. Pickering won the city tennis championship and the cup offered by the Athens Kiwanis Club during the period of his summer vacation. He has returned to Youngstown, O., where he is a teacher of English in the high school.

'18—Ruby Schaad is teacher of English in the New Philadelphia, O., high school.

'18—Mrs. Louise Gilchris Walsh is instructor in Education, State Normal College, Indiana, Pa.

'18—Donald Pyers is superintendent of the Rushsylvania, Ohio, schools.

'18—Clarence O. Williams is city superintendent of schools at Winchester, O.

'18—Virginia Tilley has resumed her work as teacher in the Castle School at Tarrytown-on-the-Hudson, N. Y., after spending the summer with her mother Mrs. Margaret Tilley, a critic teacher at Ohio University.

'18—Miss Gretchen Schaeffler is teaching this year at Delroy, Ohio.

'19—Mark ("Mox") Hendrickson, former star athlete of Ohio University, is engaged in the insurance business in Memphis, Tenn.

'19—Thomas W. Wolfe is the Actuarial Consultant for the Great American Indemnity Co., and allied companies at Mansfield, Ohio.

'19—Treva Stubbs is located for the present at Youngstown, Ohio. She is teaching.

'19—Maud D. Peairs is one of several Ohio University graduates teaching in the Frankfort, O., schools.

'19—High school English is taught at McDonald, O., by Isabel Bacon.

'19—Grace L. Sherman sailed Sept. 5, for the Panama Canal Zone to accept a position in the government high school.

'19—Mrs. Irene Chilton Moats is teaching in Clarksburg, W. Va.

'19—Melba R. White is assistant Librarian at Carnegie Library, Ohio University. Miss White was one of a party of Ohio graduates to make an extended tour of Europe during the past summer.

'19—Genena P. Whitney lives at 160 S. Main St., Oberlin, Ohio, but is teaching in the Elyria Schools.

'20—Laura Kennedy teaches the dead language—Latin—in Portsmouth High.

'20—H. Lyman Swick is a new candidate for the Schoolmasters' Club. Mr. Swick is school superintendent at Collins, O.

'20—Mary McNaughten resides in Toledo, O., where she is a teacher in the public schools.

'20—The sporting fraternity of Huntington, W. Va., is catered to by E. M. Starr, a very successful sporting goods merchant.

'20—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Newman were recent campus visitors. Mr. Newman is again coaching at Mt. Vernon High where last year he turned out the championship basketball team of Ohio, three men of which are at present enrolled in Ohio University. Newman starred in athletics when in school.

'20—Oretha V. Johnson announces a change of address from Tumcumcari, New Mexico, to Denver, Colo.

'20—Gladys Hopkins is well liked at the Brookfield Center school in Trumbull County. This is the third year for Miss Hopkins as second grade teacher.

'20—Chauncey O. Ridenour is instructor in English at Penn State College, State College, Pa.

'21—Frances E. Laughlin teaches Art at Augusta, Ill.

'21—Elbert W. Minns is assistant Engineer with the Master Electric Co., Dayton, Ohio.

'21—Mariane L. Bougher teaches in the public schools of Steubenville, O.

'21—Earl C. Shively is an instructor in French and a student in the School of Law at Ohio State University.

'21—Genevieve Mattox is teaching in Marietta High again this year. Irene Gross is starting her second year as instructor in Art in the Parkersburg schools. Both returned to Athens for the Denison-Ohio game.

'21—Robert Lowther has forsaken the teaching profession to enter business. He is now district manager for fifteen counties in West Virginia for the American Life Insurance Co., of Detroit. Mr. Lowther's headquarters are at Morgantown, W. Va.

'21—Beatrice Sawyer, teacher in the Derby, O., schools, while walking beside a road was struck and severely injured by a skidding automobile. Latest word reports a satisfactory convalescence.

'21—Luella Pemberton, formerly of Roseville, is now teaching Latin in Fairview High School, at Dayton, O.

'21—Mary Reichelderfer is teaching mathematics in St. Xavier College, Chicago, Ill.

'22—J. F. Bateman, assistant to Dr. W. F. Mercer in biology, has accepted an appointment as assistant in anatomy at Cornell University.

'22—Howard C. Drake completed his agricultural degree at the Colorado Agricultural College and is now principal of the new high school at Walbridge, a suburb of Toledo, O.

'22—Mark Cowan is teaching in Decatur High School, Decatur, Ill.

'22—Miss Frances Hatch is a pedagogue in the schools at Hebron, O.

'22—Grace Webb may be addressed, Celina, O., where she is teaching history in the high school.

'22—Dwight E. Williams is an accountant with the Grayson Mfg. Co., Athens, O.

'22—Harry R. Jefferson is enjoying his work as teacher in Kelley High School, Clarksburg, W. Va. Mr. Jefferson was a star athlete at Ohio University and writes of his regret that he cannot again play on an Ohio team.

'22—Homer R. Cotterman is this year superintendent of schools at Carroll, O.

'24 ex.—Frances Foster, daughter of Congressman and Mrs. I. M. Foster of Washington, D. C., is an assistant in the Home Economics department of the National University in Washington.

MARRIAGES

Blair-Lackey. E. E. Blair, Jr., of Youngstown, O., and Miss Lois E. Lackey, '19, of Youngstown, O., were the principals of a very happy June wedding.

Copeland-Smith. Dean B. Copeland, '20, and Miss Gertrude C. Smith, both of Cleveland, O., were united in marriage, October 11, 1922. Mr. Copeland is engaged in the banking business with the Midlank Bank. Mr. and Mrs. Copeland are at home at 1614 East 118th St., Cleveland, O.

Smith-Birney. Arthur H. Smith and Miss Virginia Birney, '20, of Freeport, O., were married September 2, 1922. Mr. Smith is the principal of the Freeport High School.

Semon-Hagel. Dr. R. R. Semon, Port Clinton, O., and Miss Marjorie Hagel, '21, Gypsum, O., were united in marriage September 6, 1922. Miss Hagel was a member of Alpha Xi Delta sorority.

Keller-Richter. Dr. D. F. Keller and Miss Marie Richter, '19, of Hicksville, O., were married August 12, 1922. Miss Richter was a member of Alpha Sigma Alpha and very prominent in campus affairs.

Jewett-Prichard. Roy L. Jewett, ex-'24, and Miss Mildred Prichard, of Portsmouth, O., were married October 3, 1922.

Jackson-Buchner. Ole C. Jackson, '17, Louisville, Ky., and Miss Mary Buchner of the same city were united in marriage September 12, 1922. Mr. Jackson is a teacher in the Medical School of the University of Louisville.

Emde-Hines. John M. ("Jack") Emde, '20, of Akron, O., and Miss Laura Hines were married April 8, 1922, at Carbondale, Ill. Mr. Emde is a Physical Director in the city of Akron.

Young-Hartley. Herbert Young, Willoughby, O., and Miss Ruth Hartley, '19, of Youngstown, O., were married during the present summer.

Tyree-Greene. Harold B. Tyree, '16, Huntington, W. Va., and Miss Lucile Greene, Spokane, Wash., were married June 8, 1921. Mr. Tyree was a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

Sprouse-Mowery. W. Lloyd Sprouse, '21, and Miss Helen Mowery, both Ohio University people were married June 18, 1922. Mr. Sprouse was a member of Ohio Commons Club. He is now principal of the High School at Mannington, W. Va.

Connell-Bullock. Dr. John W. Connell, Cleveland, O., and Miss Helen Bullock, '18, of Cadiz, Ohio, were wedded July 27. Miss Bullock was an Alpha Xi at Ohio University.

ty. Dr. Connell is serving on the staff of Lakeside Hospital, Cleveland, O.

Herrold-Lane. Russell P. Herrold, '16, Zanesville, O., and Miss Wilma Lane, '18, Cambridge, O., were married in Cambridge, August 8. Miss Lane was a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority and for several years taught history in the Cambridge High School. Mr. Herrold was a member of Torch and Beta Theta Pi. He now holds a position with the Mosaic Tile Company, of Zanesville, in which city Mr. and Mrs. Herrold will make their home.

Whipple-Case. Byron E. Whipple, '22, of McConnelsville, won his "case" when he was united in marriage to Miss Flora Case of the same city. Mr. Whipple was a member of Sigma Pi fraternity. Mr. and Mrs. Whipple are at home at Marietta, O.

Hibbard-Townsend. A wedding of November 4 will be that of Donald W. Hibbard, '22, Youngstown, O., and Miss Enid Townsend, '22, Athens, O. The bride-elect is a member of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority. Mr. Hibbard is a member of Sigma Pi fraternity and is now employed with the Truscon Steel Company, of Youngstown.

Kellar-Dulaney. Lawrence D. Kellar, '22, Columbus, O., and Miss Elma Dulaney, '20, Glouster, O., were married at the bride's home in Glouster, in October. Miss Dulaney is a member of Chi Omega sorority. Mr. Kellar is a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity. Following a honeymoon trip to southern pleasure resorts, Mr. and Mrs. Kellar are at home in Columbus where Mr. Kellar is associated in business with his father, a certified public accountant.

Hatch-Sutton. Lee F. Hatch and Miss Gertrude Sutton, '20, of Johnstown, O., were married at Newark, O., June 8. Both are now teaching in the Appleton, Ohio, schools.

Goodrich-Beelman. John (Jack) Goodrich, '16, and Miss Leatha Beelman, '11, formed an alumni chapter of their own at Willard, Ohio, when they were married July 24. We can predict who will be the head of the organization.

—O. U.—

The Cradle Roll

ALDERMAN. Dr. William E. Alderman, '09, and Mrs. Alderman (Wilhelmine Roelzner, '11) are the parents of a son, William Jr., born August 25. Dr. Alderman is a professor in Beloit College, Wisconsin.

BOYKIN. A young son arrived August 27, at the home of Mr. L. E. Boykin and Mrs. Boykin (Grace Junod, '11). Mr. and Mrs. Boykin live in Washington, D. C.

MICKLETHWAITE. Born to Gilbert Micklethwaite, '13, and Mrs. Micklethwaite, a son, Richard Seel, September 21, 1922, Portsmouth, Ohio. Dr. Micklethwaite is a practicing physician in Portsmouth. We expect another football player like his famous dad.

LEWIS. Mr. Thomas Lewis and Mrs. Lewis (Gladys Patterson '16) announce the birth of a daughter, Carolyn Jean, January 17, 19122. We know we are late with the news but aren't you glad to hear it anyway?

CLARK. Mr. Raymond S. Clark, '17, and Mrs. Clark (Brooks Shields, '16) announce the arrival of William Raymond Clark, July 26, 1922, Youngstown, Ohio.

HIGH. A son, Robert Laurie, was born to Mr. L. A. High and Mrs. High (Zillah Atkinson, '12), August 2, 1922, at their home in Bucyrus, Ohio.

PORTER. The name of Daniel Wilson Porter was inscribed in the family register of Prof. Francis M. Porter, '17, and Mrs. Porter, April 24, 1922, at Urbana, Ill.

LONG. Arthur Eugene is the name of the nine pound son born to Mr. James A. Long, '11, and Mrs. Long (Bess Nye), Aug. 21, at their home in Wilmington, O. Mr. Long is a minister in that city.

ELLIS. Helen Marie Ellis was born to Mr. Ellis and Mrs. Ellis (Gladys Baldwin, '15), September 24, 1921. The news has just come to us.

TIMMONS. Winifred Iona is the name of the new arrival at the home of Mr. B. F. Timmons, '20, and Mrs. Timmons, Sept. 19, 1922. Mr. Timmons is principal of the Pomeroy High School.

SEFFT. Born to Duane F. Senft, '20, and Mrs. Senft, August 10, 1922, a son, William Duane.

HAMMON. Born to Mr. George Hammon and Mrs. Hammon (Frances Minshall, '20) of Williamsport, a son, Robert Minshall.

STARR. Dr. Dana E. Starr and Mrs. Starr (Helen A. Johnson, '10) announce the birth of a daughter, July 16. Sorry you can't make a baseball player of her, Doc.

COTTON. Birth of a daughter, August 10, was announced by Mr. Thomas A. Cotton, '94, and Mrs. Cotton (Mabel E. Stewart, '10). Mr. Cotton is engaged in business in Athens, O.

MacKAY. Ernest Forbes MacKay arrived August 20, at the home of Mr. Murray MacKay and Mrs. MacKay (Jennie Forbes, '13) in Dolhousie, New Brunswick. Mrs. MacKay is a graduate of the Kindergarten department of the School of Education.

DEATHS

BEEKS. Miss Grace Beeks, '18, of Newcomerstown, Ohio, died July 11, 1922.

REED. Mrs. George W. Reed (Myrtle Baker, '81) died August 15, at her home in Uhrichsville, O., following a severe illness of over a year's duration. Both Mr. and Mrs. Reed were loyal alumni and friends of Ohio University and it is with genuine regret and sorrow that friends will learn of Mrs. Reed's death. A daughter, Miss Dorothy Reed, is a former student, and a son, Paul Reed, a graduate.

ARNOLD. Mrs. Dana B. Arnold (Ora Morrison, '16) died August 13, at Cleveland, Ohio. Mrs. Arnold was a member of Alpha Delta Pi sorority.

BROWN. Very sad was the news of the death of Forest Davis Brown, the infant son of Mr. Monroe F. Brown, '21, and Mrs. Brown (Ruth Davis, '21), October 5. Mr. Brown is principal of the Wyoming, Ohio, High School.

SAYLOR. The ten months old daughter of Mr. Guy Saylor and Mrs. Saylor, (Lenore Van Dyke, '21) died very suddenly. October 10. Mrs. Saylor was a member of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority. The Saylor's live in Athens.

BROWN. James Gladstone Brown, '15, professor of English, Colorado College, died October 3, at Colorado Springs, Colo.

"FROSH" WERE PERFECT GENTLEMAN AT ANNUAL AFFAIR

The annual Pan-Hellenic smoker for the freshmen of all the men's organizations at Ohio University was held September 26, at the Phi Kappa Tau fraternity house. As this annual smoker has been followed on several occasions by somewhat disastrous results in the course of a "raid" staged by the freshmen, the University authorities appealed to the president of each organization to restrain its members from any acts of violence.

The freshmen, who have always been prompted by the "larking" spirit and not one of vandalism, responded to the request for orderliness. Following a most enjoyable smoker the combined musical talent of the lower class was mustered and a serenade of President Bryan's home and the women's dormitories was held. Instrumental music, vocal solos, and mass singing was combined to make up one of the most delightful serenades of recent years. It is expected that the serenade will become a feature of the annual freshman night.

ATHLETICS

Ohio Downs Old Rival by Single Touchdown—Denison Team Proves to be Worthy Foe—Fights to Last.

A twelve-yard pass over the goal line by Quarterback Wise into the outstretched arms of "Dick" Rheinhold, gave Ohio a great 7 to 0 victory over Denison, in the battle played on the home gridiron, October 14th.

The game was played before one of the largest crowds that ever assembled at Ohio Field. As the student body, nearly 100% strong, emitted tremendous volleys of cheers, the Green and White clad warriors stiffened their opposition and would not permit the Big Red team to get within a striking distance of the Ohio goal.

The only touchdown of the game came in the first quarter after four minutes of play. Henderson kicked off to Rheinhold on the 23-yard line. Moritz failed to gain and Littler lost a yard with Wise punting to Denison's 19-yard line. Denison failed to gain, and lost the ball when Calhoun passed the ball over Fullback Kneibler's head. Patterson for Ohio, recovered the pig-skin on Denison's 8-yard line. Three times the Green and White failed to gain against the alarmed line of the visitors. Then on a trick play, Littler to Wise to Rheinhold, a touchdown was scored when Wise passed over the visitor's goal. Wise secured the extra point by a successful kick between the goal-posts.

Once more Ohio had a chance to score. This time in the last quarter. In the last quarter, on a last down, Wise attempted a place kick from the 35 yard line and was successful to the astonishment of teammates and opponents alike. The three points were lost, however, when Ohio was called back for holding.

Denison, on the other hand, never seriously threatened the Ohio goal, failing to get the ball within the home team's 20-yard line. The Big Red team was unable to function against the Green and White line; but exhibited several sensational brands of broken-field running together with an intimate acquaintance with the aerial attack.

The fine co-ordination of the Ohio team made possible the great victory and helped to avenge the stinging defeat that Denison gave Ohio last year. The outstanding star of the line was Patterson at right tackle who did incalculable damage to the hopes of the Denison team. Barret, at center, played a steady, aggressive game. Wise distinguished himself by his generalship and fine punting. Littler starred in the backfield and was the only Ohio halfback who was successful consistently in getting through the Denison line.

Allen, Denison left half and triple threat man, was the outstanding star for the visitors with his ground gaining and passing ability. Clarke, playing in Hundley's position at right half was a good running mate for Allen. These two men made several pretty gains through the midst of Ohio players.

Space will not permit a play by play description of the game but an interesting summary is presented. The average punts of Ohio were good for 43 yards and those of Denison for but 32 yards. The Big Red team gained 194 yards to Ohio's 117, but lost 52 yards to the Green and White's 27. Ohio suffered 60 yards in penalties and the visitors 10 yards. Denison completed 10 passes for 88 yards, incomplete 8, and had 2 intercepted. The visitors made 10 first downs to their hosts' two.

The line-up:

Ohio	Denison
Wise -----	Q. B. ----- Rogers
Moritz -----	R. H. ----- Clark
Littler -----	L. H. ----- Allen
Duvall -----	F. B. ----- Kneibler
Reinhold -----	R. E. ----- Jefferson
Patterson -----	R. T. ----- Henderson
Middleton -----	R. G. ----- McClain
Barrett -----	C. ----- Calhoun
Rush -----	L. G. ----- Stedman
Odaffer -----	L. T. ----- Willis
Herbert -----	L. E. ----- Lyne

Substitutions: Ohio—McCleary for Moritz, O'Donnell for Herbert, Smith for Odaffer, Reynolds for Smith, Payne for Smith, Palmer for Moritz, Palmer for Duvall, Duvall for Palmer. Denison—Sebald for Clark, Jenkins for Rogers, Bridge for Henderson. Referee, Prugh; Umpire, Hoyer; Head Linesman, Eickenlaub.

BALDWIN-WALLACE "11" WALLOPED BY OHIO U.

Ohio University's football team put away its first game of the season at Berea, October 7, when it decisively defeated the Baldwin-Wallace eleven, 28 to 0. It was the opening game for both teams and each showed lack of speed in execution of plays.

The Green and White was unable to score in the first period. On the second play of the second quarter Ohio made the first touchdown of the game on a forward pass, Wise to Littler. Near the end of the half the Green and White worked the ball to the Baldwin-Wallace 12-yard line from which point another pass, Wise to Reinhold, netted a second score. The third period was scoreless but in the final quarter Baldwin-Wallace weakened, permitting Ohio to carry the ball forward at will. Duvall at line smashing and McCleary in open field work were especially effective. Moritz, Duvall, McCleary and Littler were principal ground gainers for Ohio. Middleton on the line played a great defensive game. Ohio substitute heavily and used 20 men in the game.

OHIO BLANKS RESERVE— ALUMNI SUPPORT TEAM

The third of Ohio's series of shut-out triumphs was scored over Western Reserve at Cleveland, Oct. 21. An open attack, with forward passing playing the important part, marked a 37 to 0 victory over the Cleveland team. It was the third consecutive win for the Green and White.

A loyal aggregation of approximately one hundred and fifty alumni and students assembled at the Cleveland grid-iron to form a strong cheering section which urged the team on to victory. They saw Coach Finsterwald use his entire squad of twenty men in turning Reserve back scoreless.

As in the Denison game the Ohio team was fighting every minute. The work of the Ohio line was exceptionally well performed inasmuch as Reserve did not once get within the 30-yard line. Odaffer, Littler, McCleary and Wise were responsible for the scoring.

OHIO'S SCHEDULE

FOOTBALL

Baldwin-Wallace	----	0	Ohio	-----	28
Denison	-----	0	Ohio	-----	7
Western Reserve	----	0	Ohio	-----	37
St. Xavier	-----	13	Ohio	-----	7

Nov. 11—Bethany at Wheeling.
Nov. 18—Otterbein at Athens.
Nov. 25—W. Va., at Morgantown.
Nov. 30—Marietta at Marietta.

BASKETBALL, '22-'23

Jan. 6—Cincinnati at Athens.
Jan. 19—Ohio Northern, at Athens.
Jan. 26—St. Xavier, at Cincinnati.
Jan. 27—Cincinnati, at Cincinnati.
Feb. 3—Western Reserve, at Cleveland.
Feb. 5—Oberlin, at Oberlin.
Feb. 10—St. Xavier, at Athens.
Feb. 23—Marietta, at Athens.
Feb. 23-24—Annual High School Tournament, at Athens.
Mar. 2—Otterbein, at Athens.

Mar. 3—Western Reserve, at Athens.

Mar. 9—Wittenberg, at Springfield.

GROVER TO SUCCEED FINSTERWALD AS COACH

It has been officially announced by Director Bird, of the Ohio University athletic department that Assistant Coach B. T. Grover, will assume charge of basketball and baseball as coach. This announcement has just been made and is being most favorably received.

Grover is assistant to Coach R. W. Finsterwald in football and has aided Coach Finsterwald during the past three years in developing the excellent teams which have represented Ohio University.

"Butch" graduated from Ohio in 1919, and during his years he established a record of being placed on All-Ohio in football and received All-State mention in basketball. In the spring of '19, Grover went into training with the Toledo baseball team of the American association, but released his contract to assume duties in the athletic department at Ohio.

Coach Grover's past experience fits him most admirably for the duties which have been assigned him. Many are the good wishes which accompany him in his undertakings.

It is with much genuine regret that the many loyal Ohio alumni, followers of the Green and White squad, and Athenians, will see Coach Finsterwald relinquish his duties as coach of athletics at Ohio University, but business compels Coach Finsterwald to devote his entire time to his profession.

This is Coach Finsterwald's third season as mentor of Ohio University football and at present he is right on the job, whipping his team into shape for a successful season.

His past success speaks for him. He has developed teams and athletes of the highest caliber, who were imbued with the real spirit of sportsmanship. He has won for Ohio the championship in basketball once, while last year saw Ohio's team finishing second in the conference race. Never have Ohio's teams brought up the rear in any of the sports.

Finsterwald knew the game. He is a three sport man and formerly starred for the Green and White. "Jube's" name appears on the all-time Ohio eleven. After graduating from Ohio University, Finsterwald entered Syracuse, where he made a commendable football record.

"CLOSE-UPS"

Next issue will contain a description of the work of each member of the eleven during the season. Lack of space forbids a further discussion of the affairs and fortunes of the gridiron team in the present issue. A complete review will appear in the December number.

